

Justice and fairness

“We ask God to endow human souls with justice so that they may be fair and may strive to provide for the comfort of all...” —'Abdu'l-Bahá

Bahá'u'lláh teaches us that justice and fairness are essential to unity.

This means that to help us get along, we must make sure each of us is comfortable with what we're doing and what we have. Agreeing on rules and following them is a great way to do this.

Draw a group of friends playing a game of soccer together. One of them is cheating in order to get ahead. Is that fair? How do the others feel? Does this make it hard for them to get along?	Draw the same group of friends playing. This time, everyone is following the rules. How do they feel now? Do you think it's easier for them to get along with each other?

We ask _____ to endow human _____ with justice so that they may be _____ and may strive to provide for the _____ of all...
